WOODROW WILSON.

THOMAS RILEY MARSHALL.

DEMOCRATS WIN SWEEPING VICTORY.

Big Majority in House of Representatives and Probable Control of Both Houses.

With 37 States for Wilson, 6 for Roosevelt and 5 for Taft, the Result is Without Parallel in History of Presidential Elections.

Twenty-One States Elect Democratic Governors, Seven Republican, and One Progressive—John F. Butler, Republican, Wins Over Roberson in Circuit Judge Race—Langley and Fields Re-elected—Turner Wins for Appellate Judge.

By the greatest majority given to a presidential candidate in the history of the nation Woodrow Wilson has been elected to the greatest office known to government. Not only so, but both Houses of Congress will be of the same political faith. So far as the race for the presidency is concerned the result was foretold months ago. From the very nature and condition of things it could not have been otherwise. It is useless at this hour to say what the conditions were, or to comment upon them. Every reader of the newspapers knows what brought about the success of the Democratic National ticket, and it is not profitable to strain the milk again.

By the election of Woodrow Wilson and a Democratic Congress, both Senate and House, there will be a complete change in the administration of the affairs of the country, but there will be no Revolution. The United States is neither Mexico nor yet South America. On the Fourth of next March President Wilson and his cabinet will take hold of the affairs of the Government, and there will not be the slightest jar. As a people we have prospered, and it is our belief that as a people we will continue to prosper and that under a proper down revision of the tariff the laboring man, the wage-earner, in fact all classes but the Trusts will prosper more than they prospered under the policy that catered to the rich alone.

With the assumption of its tremendous power the Democratic party assumes a tremendous responsibility. Its President and its platform have promised much, and it may rest assured that the people will hold it and its leaders to a strict account. The NEWS believes that the Democratic party will redeem every pledge made by either its magnificent leader or its platform.

Will Probably Control Both Houses.

Washington, Nov. 6.—With an overwhelming Democratic majority in the House of Representatives, returns to-day indicate a probability of the success of a sufficient number of Democratic senatorial candidates to give the Democrats control of both branches of Congress. There, however, still in sufficient uncertainty regarding the Senate to make the situation indefinite. The undecided character of the outlook concerning the Senate is due to the fact that in order to outline the prospect it is necessary to have returns on the Legislature from the various States which, owing to the fact that the members of Legislatures are counted among minor offices, are generally among the last to be received.

Wilson's Plurality About 1,355,000.

Later telegrams show that the Wilson column of States numbers 41. Taft has three States and one dozen electoral votes Wilson has captured Tennessee, but the Republicans will probably have the State officers.

In Maryland Wilson has a plurality of 54,000 over Roosevelt.

In Kentucky Roosevelt ranks second, but he is 100,000 behind Woodrow Wilson.

Wilson Carries 40 States.

With three states missing and several states represented by estimates instead of final figures, Wilson is given a total plurality of 1,355,000. In the states he has carried, Roosevelt carried his states by an aggregate plurality of 138,000, while Taft's pluralities in the three states of Utah, Vermont and Idaho are estimated at 8,000.

The states still in the doubtful list are Kansas and Minnesota.

Wilson's Majority in Kentucky.

Unofficial returns received from 101 Kentucky counties out of 120 in the State indicate that Gov. Wilson will have an unprecedented plurality, probably of 100,000, over Taft and a safe majority over the combined opposition. The missing counties are nearly all in remote mountain districts outside of telegraphic communication.

The real feature of the Kentucky election is the closeness of the race between Taft and Roosevelt for second place. The figures received show the President leads the "Bull Moose" leader by about 3,000, and this probably will be increased when the full returns from the missing mountain counties are received.

Returns show the Democrats have returned nine Congressmen and the Republicans two. In the Eleventh district Caleb Powers is elected by a greatly reduced plurality. Unofficial reports from Somerset say that Powers has defeated Smith, the Democratic candidate, by about 2,000. Seavey, the Progressive candidate, finished a strong third.

Turner Seems To Have It.

Concerning the election of Appellate Judge the Enquirer of Thursday says:

Yesterday's convictions were doubly reaffirmed to-day when more complete returns from all sections of Kentucky show that no race in which a Democrat stood given the faintest chance has been lost. Last night's doubt as to the safety of C. Turner, of Mt. Sterling, in his race for the Appellate Judgeship in the Seventh Kentucky District, was swept away early this morning when later returns proved that he had defeated Judge A. J. Kirk, Rep., by a majority of at least 2,500.

Butler Wins in Judge's Race.

Practically complete returns from all the 23 precincts in Pike county give John F. Butler a majority of 138 votes over Judge J. M. Roberson in the Circuit Judge race, and Letcher county will add about 60 additional majority to this small victory. Butler being the Republican candidate, should have rallied a much larger majority in Pike county alone. It is now safe to say his total majority in this judicial district will not exceed 200 votes.

West Virginia Dry.

Returns not all in, but indications are that state-wide Prohibition in West Virginia has won by about 30,000. This will banish the saloons from the state.

Jas. A. Hughes Re-elected.

Former Louisiana James A. Hughes, of Huntington, is returned to Congress from West Virginia by a safe majority.

Langley Wins in Tenth.

Lucky John Langley goes back to Washington as Congressman from the Tenth.

Full Returns on Page 7.

On page 7 of this issue of the NEWS will be found 6 columns of the latest obtainable news, compiled from the most authentic sources and given without political coloring. This enterprise on part of the paper will be appreciated, more particularly by its country readers who do not have access to the daily press.

The following were elected in Wayne county and Butler district, all Democrats:

- For House of Delegates
F. W. TERRIL
Residence, Wayne, W. Va.
- For House of Delegates
C. W. THOMPSON
Residence, Kenova, W. Va.
- For Prosecuting Attorney
D. B. HARDWICK
Residence, Wayne, W. Va.
- For Sheriff
J. S. BILLUPS
Residence, Fort Gay, W. Va.
- For County Commissioner, Long Term
H. W. THOMPSON
Residence, Fort Gay, W. Va.
- For County Commissioner, Term Ending Jan. 1, 1917
R. S. SANSOM
Residence, Wayne, W. Va.
- County Assessor,
PEARLIE FRAZIER,
Fort Gay.

Butler District: For Justice, J. P. Billups and J. W. Huff. For Constable, H. B. Thompson and John Doss. The majorities for these candidates ranged from 390 to 800, the last being Dan Hardwick's majority for Commonwealth's Attorney. This was Wilson's majority, so Dan is in excellent company.

They Caught The Crowd.

The Young People's Missionary Society of the M. E. Church South gave a very successful Halloween party in the Evans building on Thursday night. The young ladies had published a seasonable menu, and it was served in a style particularly pleasing. The decorations, the eatables, the Society itself caught the crowd and held it until the cash receipts showed a very comfortable sum. After paying all expenses the treasury will be richer by about twenty-dollars.

FARMERS INTERESTED.

The Agricultural School Holds Successful Session In Louisa.

The Extension Division of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station which is conducting a series of "Extension Schools" over the State, is now in the Big Sandy valley holding schools of agriculture and making an agricultural survey. The schools were at Pikeville, Prestonsburg, Paintsville and are now in Louisa.

Prof. T. R. Bryant, who is in charge of the work, said in a recent interview:

"Each section of the State presents its peculiar problems but at the same time its peculiar possibilities. In many of the sections visited, work has already been done by the extension service and the results, before the very eyes of the local people are so striking that the demand for further instruction and help is greater than can be properly cared for."

"The instructors of the extension schools report from their reconnaissance that fruit growing and poultry raising are the most promising industries for the mountains and they are getting in touch with farmers with whom they will later take up systematic work on their home farms."

"The agricultural possibilities of Kentucky are beyond comprehension and it is a living reproach that fruit, dairy products and other food-stuffs are continually shipped into our State."

"While it is a large task to put Kentucky agriculture where it belongs, it is predicted that within a few years the importation of farm products will be replaced by a brisk export business, thus putting our balance of trade in better shape."

The agricultural schools and agricultural survey in the mountains are being conducted by Prof. Bryant who is superintendent of the Extension Division of the Experiment Station; H. B. Hendrick and H. R. Carmody, two able men from Michigan, were recently added to that department.

Interest in farming and the allied branches is surely looking up in this section. The Agricultural Extension School opened here on Wednesday, and those in charge are delighted with the success which attends the enterprise. The school is being taught in the college building and the attendance and the interest manifested are both quite flattering. The teachers are Prof. T. R. Bryant, H. B. Carmody and H. B. Hendrick, are competent men, thoroughly versed in their respective lines, and possess the happy faculty of creating and holding interest in what they say. This public school of agriculture, dairying, fruit and stock growing—it doesn't cost you a cent—is a great boon to any community in which it is held, and you should not fail to become a student. It will continue Friday and Saturday, and much of value can be learned in even this short time.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

Reub. Wellman, of Walbridge, is in the hospital, suffering with a stomach trouble.

Joe Bishop, of Mossy Bottom, Floyd county, was brought to the hospital Tuesday, sick of typhoid fever.

Orville Harper, of Pikeville, was severely hurt by falling slate in a mine and was brought down Tuesday for treatment. The injury is in his back, and as a result he is partially paralyzed.

A BARREL OF WASTE.

The alarm of fire about 4 o'clock on Friday morning last was caused by the burning of a barrel of "waste." Some rascals who thought they were having a good time took the waste from a car and set it on fire. It made a bright light, leading many to think the flour mill was burning.

B. & O. ENGINEERING CORPS.

The B and O. surveying party was at work near the old David Garred place last week. This fact is only a "straw," but it seems to show which way the wind blows.

THE CHURCHES.

Louisa churches were well attended last Sunday. Rev. Olus Hamilton, pastor of the Baptist church, preached morning and night. In the afternoon Capt. F. F. Freese conducted a well attended and interesting prayer service.

At the M. E. Church South the pastor, Rev. J. W. Crites preached in the morning. The Presiding Elder, Rev. O. F. Williams, preached, after which the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered.

District Superintendent J. B. McClay, of Ashland held his initial service at the M. E. Church in the morning, holding the Communion service at the close of the sermon. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Plummer, preached as usual at night. This church is to be congratulated upon having Dr. McClay as Superintendent.

Elder John Simpson, of Louisville, preached at the Christian Church moving and evening, the regular pastor, Elder Summers, being absent.

The Rev. Charles E. Crusoe was in Prestonsburg Sunday. He will hold the usual services at the Episcopal chapel next Sunday at 10:45 a. m. and 4:00 p. m.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Two Children of George Stumbo, of Felix, W. Va., the Victims.

On Monday last, Nov. 4, a large frame building occupied by George Stumbo and family, located at Felix, W. Va., a station on the N. and W. railway, 14 miles east of Ft. Gay, was totally destroyed by fire, and two children, a boy 8 years old, and a girl 8 months, were burned to death. The father was absent when the fire occurred, and the mother had gone to the barn for corn, leaving the children alone in the house. Returning she saw flames bursting from an open door. A large crowd gathered at the scene of the disaster. In a very short time and every possible effort was made to save the helpless children, but they perished before the eyes of the distracted mother. The large general store of G. M. Salmons, in which the postoffice was kept, was saved from the flames only by the most heroic efforts. The residence of Mr. Salmons was in imminent danger and was saved only by hard work. Stumbo is a son of Marion Stumbo, formerly of this State. This very distressing occurrence has shocked the entire community in which it happened.

FOR THE GOLDEN WEST.

Mr. H. A. Peters, who has been living in California several years, and who has recently been visiting relatives in this section, left for his home, Calexico, Cal., Wednesday. Mr. Peters is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Peters, who accompanied their son to his far off home. Enroute they will visit the daughter, Mrs. Alice Singer, of Findlay, O., and Mr. Mike Peters, of Parkville, Kansas. They will also visit Los Angeles and San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Peters will remain in California until next spring and may possibly make it their home.
